Scheme to Defraud

8. Beginning in or around 2002, and continuing until at least in or around February 2008, the exact dates being unknown to the Grand Jury, in the Eastern District of Missouri and elsewhere, the defendant herein, did voluntarily and intentionally devise and participate in a scheme and artifice to defraud and to obtain money and property by means of materially false and fraudulent pretenses, representations and promises.

9. In general, the scheme to defraud was an investment scheme in which RICHARD SAUNDERS and at least one other individual operated various businesses, including ACH and ASIC.

10. As part of the scheme to defraud, RICHARD SAUNDERS promised investors guaranteed returns by investing in allegedly low risk offshore annuities, based on complex insurance products with guarantees by insurance companies. Investors were advised that their investments would provide returns of approximately 14% to 20%. Typically, investors were advised that their principal would need to be invested for five years and that they could begin to receive interest payments after two years. The scheme defrauded investors in several states, including Missouri.

11. The scheme to defraud operated as a pyramid and Ponzi-style investment scheme in which the investors who were paid returns on their investments were normally paid using investment funds obtained from other investors, rather than from returns on legitimate investments as promised and represented.

12. In general, a participant in the scheme was responsible for soliciting investors and RICHARD SAUNDERS organized and orchestrated the scheme. For example, RICHARD SAUNDERS maintained and controlled the bank accounts into which investor funds were deposited and withdrawn. RICHARD SAUNDERS also met with and communicated with some investors.

13. As part of the scheme, principal funds invested by investors were not invested as promised and represented. Rather such principal funds were often diverted to pay personal expenses of RICHARD SAUNDERS and to make lulling payments to certain investors, which tended to keep the scheme from collapsing.

14. As part of the scheme, investors were advised and encouraged to wire transfer investment funds to the ACH National City Bank account no. '4595. Some investors paid by check and other means.

15. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS provided and caused to be provided false and fraudulent representations and promises to investors and potential investors. In some cases, RICHARD SAUNDERS falsely promised that investor principal could not be lost.

16. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS received investor funds, and deposited and caused to be deposited investor funds into National City Bank account no. '4595.

17. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS made and caused to be made periodic interest payments to some investors using funds from National City Bank account no. '4595.

18. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS provided and caused to be provided false and fraudulent account statements to investors.

19. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS did not invest investor principal as represented and promised.

20. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS fraudulently diverted some funds from National City Bank account no. '4595 to off-shore accounts, including an account known as "Bangkok Public Limited Company - J&Y Consulting Services Co. Ltd.," in Thailand.

21. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS communicated with investors by various means, including by email messages. RICHARD SAUNDERS' correspondence with investors was often designed and intended to lull investors into complacency and to provide excuses for his failure to provide the returns promised.

22. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS failed to truthfully advise investors that their principal had not been invested as promised and represented.

23. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS failed to truthfully advise investors that returns that might be paid would be paid using other investor funds.

24. As part of the scheme, RICHARD SAUNDERS failed to truthfully advise investors that their principal was not secure.

25. As part of the scheme, between approximately May 2005 and continuing until approximately January 2008, RICHARD SAUNDERS paid and caused to be paid numerous lulling payments to at least four investors, totaling more than $200,000, from National City Bank account no. '4595. The lulling payments were made using other investor funds rather than from true returns on investment. RICHARD SAUNDERS also paid and caused to be paid other lulling payments from other accounts which he controlled.

26. As part of the scheme, between approximately November 2004 and January 2008, RICHARD SAUNDERS spent, paid, and diverted more than $1.3 million in investor funds from the '4595 account for personal and other purposes and expenses which were not related to investing funds as promised and represented to investors. Some of the funds were transferred to overseas accounts, including accounts in the British Virgin Islands, Bermuda, and Thailand. Some of the funds were transferred to other bank accounts over which RICHARD SAUNDERS had dominion and control.

27. As part of the scheme, in 2008, RICHARD SAUNDERS fled the United States and relocated to Southeast Asia, including Thailand, without paying investors.

28. In total, the scheme took in more than $4 million in funds transferred to National City Bank account no. '4595.
